

Donald B. MacDonald, BSc. Kinesiology, MSc.
Ergonomics
Ergonomics Consultant

With a Masters in Ergonomics from Loughborough University in the United Kingdom, Donald joined the EWI team at the Calgary office in the fall of 2002. Armed with a good-natured personality and sense of humour as well as his desire to excel, he quickly fit into his role as an ergonomic consultant with the EWI team.

In addition to his thesis work, which involved conducting user field trials of nursing uniforms at Nottingham City Hospital, Donald also worked as an ergonomist with the Nova Scotia Department of Education, providing physical accommodations for students with disabilities. Donald's ergonomic repertoire also includes conducting risk assessments, providing product evaluations, teaching ergonomic courses at Red Deer College, and providing onsite ergonomic training in a variety of settings.

Donald keeps on the go in his spare time. He is a basketball referee for both high school and senior men's level games, which keeps him on the go and on his toes on various weekends and evenings during the week. Traveling and cooking are other personal interests (ask him for his oreo cookie squares recipe!), but his favorite past time is having a good laugh when visiting with family and friends.

Donald is not only a member of the Association of Canadian Ergonomists, but has kept very active within the organization, where he has acted as Program Coordinator for the Alberta NWT chapter of the Association. He is also an associate member with the Canadian Association of Occupational Therapists.
